On most islands and in different versions, she is also said to be at the origin of the coconut tree, the indispensable nurturing tree of all Ma'ohi people. Hina, whose presence can be felt in the shimmer of a moon-ray or in the rustle of a coconut palm, remains the symbol of serenity and well-being.

Polynesian Local Products

In Polynesia, monoi oil is used every day, for its benefits on the skin, on the hair, for relaxation as part of massages and to prevent stretch marks.

For our body massage in Hina Spa, customers are able to choose different flavors of Monoï such as coconut, tiare, vanilla or frangipani.

For healing virtues, we use too tamanu oil, very used in Bora Bora. Tamanu oil has been used traditionally as a local medicine, and is sometimes considered the Polynesian panacea. All parts of the plant (ie, bark, leaves, seeds) have been used medically as antiseptics, astringents, expectorants, diuretics, and purgatives. The oil possesses antimicrobial and antiviral activity.
